Where do you get your clothes cleaned and pressed? That may sound like a simple question, but the next time you get them back from the cleaners look at them and see if they are thoroughly cleaned and pressed as the suit was made to be pressed. Then comes the wear and tear. Care in cleaning makes a great difference with reference to the length of time that clothes will wear.

WRIGHT'S CLEANING WORKS, the pioneer in the cleaning, pressing and dyeing business in the city, has learned by long and painstaking experience how to handle your clothes so that they come back as they should. Gents' clothing, ladies' clothing and gloves, coats, fur, lace curtains, fine tapestries, linen and lingerie all go through the cleaning process at Wright's unharmed, spotless and faultless. The idea at Wright's is not "just to turn out the work"—the main idea is to get the work done so that the patron is pleased and satisfied.

And another important thing to remember is that this establishment is under new management. Mr. Clayton, new manager, is looking after every detail of the business to see that nothing goes awry, and that nothing, no matter how small, is overlooked to bring in the utmost perfection every process and step that enters into the operation of a most successful cleaning and dyeing plant. He is fitted by experience and business knowledge to give you satisfactory service.

The idea that Mr. Clayton wishes to especially convey to the public is that the Wright plant is bigger and better than ever. The service is prompt and courteous, the trucks being modern and fast. The plant is equipped with the very latest and most efficient machinery for the carrying on of the various processes that must be gone through with to effect a perfect job. Do you realize that thousands of dollars are invested in fine and delicate machinery for your protection and service? Machines are used for spotting, special machinery is used for dyeing, special equipment must be used for the cleaning process, and so it is with a dozen or more operations—each a separate step in the work of cleaning, pressing and dyeing. Some time when you have nothing else to do pay a visit to the Wright plant and see the wonderful things that really happen when you send your clothes here to be cleaned, pressed or dyed. You will be amazed to find what a complicated and particular work this is that you thought of, perhaps, in the light of a little gasoline and an ironing board.

And the next time you have your clothes, coat, gloves, lace curtains, tapestries, etc., cleaned or dyed, PHONE 3717.

Most men are temperamental. If they start the day right, they are keen as a razor edge all day. President, Ambassador and Statesman good coffee make a bit with men like this. Even the most ordinary breakfast is voted "hully" when the housewife serves President, Ambassador or Statesman Coffee. It breaks away the cobwebs that sleep left in the eyes and opens the windows of the soul of joy of living. Serve President, Ambassador or Statesman Coffee tomorrow morning—at breakfast.
